Acknowledgement

First of all, we would like to thank our supervisor, Encik Mohamed Fajil Bin Abdul Batau, because of his kindness, good guidance and his toughness indirectly made us work harder in order to finish our research successfully regarding the factors that influence the awareness of organ donation among students. We are very lucky by having a very supportive supervisor as well as others lecturer that teach us about research. In addition, we would like to express our appreciation to our adored and cherished parents, for they having given me support in many term especially in financial and also moral. Without them, we will have a very difficult situation in completing this practical report.

In addition, we also want to thank our classmates who give us their opinions, ideas and cooperation toward this research. Thank you for the friendship that cannot be replaced and the sweet moment that cannot be forgotten. Last but not least, we hope all the information and data in this study will increase the knowledge of anyone who will be accessing it and its related topics. It would be a great honor to us if our research proposal is used as reference in the future or for any other good cause.

In a nutshell, we would like to apologize for any mistakes and weaknesses in this research and we are sincerely welcome any comments and suggestions for further improvements on our behalf.

Thank you.

ABSTRACT

This research was carried out on the factors that influence the awareness of organ donation among students. The purpose of this study is to determine which factors that influence the awareness of organ donation among students such as family influence, campaign influence, and also government initiatives. The respondents in this study are students from Melaka International Medical College. The data from this research was collected by questionnaire that given to the respondents. 90 questionnaires had been design and distributed among the students to indicate whether there is a relationship between the variables and the awareness of organ donation among students. The method of convenience sampling was used as our sampling technique to set specific types of people who can provide the desired information. In order to determine the objective of this study, the data were analyzing using reliability analysis, frequency analysis, normality analysis, Spearman's rank –order Correlation and multiple linear regressions.
