Dengan nama Allah yang Maha Pemurah lagi Maha Penyayang..

I am very grateful to Pn. Aliza Ismail as my supervisor, lecturer in electronic records management and computer applications in records management. Your teaching skill and your ideas will help me to be the best 'teacher' for another day.

I am also grateful to En. Rebzwani @ Bob (DMS ex-senior executive) and En. Azman (DMS senior executive / ex-MSc. Info. Mgt. students) in all ideas related to this survey. Not forget National Archives of Malaysia officer, En. Abu, En. Raj and En. Shafii for their details in National Archives Act of Malaysia.

A big thanks to Associate Professor Dr. Raja Abdullah Yaacob (Dean of Faculty of Information Study) and Dr. Adnan Jamaludin (Deputy Dean of Faculty of Information Studies).

Finally, I give immeasurable thanks to all my family (Abah, Mak, Along, Boboy and Ninin) and my best friends, Sya; due to their support, love and understanding. Thank you for giving me the strength!

ELECTRONIC RECORDS: ITS IMPLICATIONS ON NATIONAL ARCHIVES ACT OF MALAYSIA 1966

Abstract:

Vision 2020, a national agenda that sets out specific goals and objectives for long-term development for Malaysia. This vision have clearly articulates Malaysian objective towards developed-nation status while moving towards the creation of an information rich society in the information age. To be an information rich society, a variable of related technologies such as computer, software, telecommunications and multimedia are being used to receive, create, process, store and disseminate information. Those activities will create electronic records management. By studying in National Archives Act in other countries; I've seen that many of them had revised their act. Some of them are still reviewing their act in moving towards an information technology era. They are looking for a new definitions, policy, responsibility, storage, preservation and procedures in managing electronic records. National Archives of Malaysia should revised their act. National Archives of Malaysia should be more specific as reference to government and semi government agencies and private agencies.
