ABSTRACT

This report is aimed to investigate whether the shift into Intrapreneur Venture as a new core business is indeed for the better and effective in enhancing Group performance or not. The IV concept involves an equity acquisition where the intrapreneurs are expected to continue spearheading and growing their businesses. Sindora, as a public listed company, will provide the institutional support, accessibility to financial instruments, and other corporate resources it is capable of rendering. This report also is aimed to find out whether the claims made by the corporate sector while going for M&As to generate synergy, are being achieved or not while going for mergers and acquisitions (M&A) management smell financial synergy or/and operating synergy in different ways.

The shift into Intrapreneur Venture as a new core business is indeed for the better, leading Sindora towards a newly defined, exciting and challenging corporate destiny. The study will cover up the strategic planning of Sindora group and the data will be collected from Sindora Annual report, historical background, strategic planning and progress financial reports and also achievement through their new legacy. Then the study will show whether the shift into Intrapreneur Venture as a new core business is indeed for the better, leading the Group’s toward a newly defined, exciting and challenging corporate destiny. The information that gathers and findings will be used to improve the performance and effectiveness of Sindora’s Intrapreneur venture business and also will enhance Group income. The purpose of the finding is to apply on strategic direction of Sindora Berhad group.
