Abstract

This research paper is a comparative study between the United Kingdom and Malaysia on the application of the Competition Act in respective countries. The main objective is to critically examine the Competition Act 2010 in Malaysia in order to promote a competitive market environment in Malaysia. It looks at how the Act is implemented in the respective countries. Furthermore, the comparison between the competition law in Malaysia with United Kingdom’s competition law will be studied.

From the legal point of view, the legal background of each country will be studied and whether the implementation of the Act is effective. Interviews will be conducted from the academic and student’s perspective as to the justification of implementing the Act.

The effectiveness of the implementation of competition law in respective countries will be inferred and suggestions or recommendations necessary for the government to improve the Competition Act in Malaysia will be made.
Acknowledgement

This research project has been carried out by a team which has included Majdah binti Mohd Yusof, Norarifa binti A. Rahman and Shazwina binti Ahmad Mazli. Our contribution to the project has been the time we have given up to the research and data collection, as well as the time taken for the consultations with our supervisor as well as the interviews conducted. Many was spent printing many drafts, photocopying, binding the project paper as well as the use of money for gas to travel from place to place. However, it was all worth it once the paper had been completed, bound and submitted.

First and foremost we would like to thank Allah for the gifts he has given us. He gave us health, patience, determination, focus and dedication in which we used to complete this paper. We thank Him for all the strength that He has given us.

Besides that, we would like to sincerely thank our lecturer, Madam Nadia Omar for her continued guidance to us in finishing this project paper. Without her insight and advice, we would not have known how to proceed with this project paper.

Furthermore, we would also like to thank our parents for their continued love and support during the duration of us finishing this project paper. We couldn't have soldiered on without their love pushing us to go forward during the tough times we faced in finishing this project paper.

Last but not least, we would like to thank all others who have contributed to this project paper one way or another.
