ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Alhamdulillah, we express our highest gratitude to Allah SWT for helping us to complete this case study as one of the requirements for the coursework evaluation of Fiqh Muqaran (IMU601). Not only that, we would like to record our utmost appreciation to our lecturer, Dr. Ahmad Murshidi Bin Mustapha, for his assistance, guidance, and teaching in helping us to successfully conduct this research. His suggestions and encouragement helped us to align our assignments well, especially in writing the article reviews.

Furthermore, we would like to express our highest gratitude to our parents for their support and encouragement in ensuring that this task can be completed successfully within the specified time frame. Our endless thanks are also directed to our team members, Aida Khairani Binti Zaidi, Atikah Nabilah Binti Yusri, Nur Athirah Binti Mohd Fauzi, Nursolehah Binti Mohd Jalani, and Rohani Binti Hashim for their cooperation in completing this task. We would also like to express our sincere gratitude to all parties directly or indirectly involved in helping us to complete this task successfully. This assignment could not be completed without the efforts and cooperation of all parties, especially our team members.

We hope that the results of this assignment can add deeper knowledge and share the knowledge gained with others. Hopefully, all the efforts made will benefit us and all readers. Thank you.

1.0 INTRODUCTIONS

Zakat is one of the most fundamental pillars of Islam. It is an act of worship that is based on the principles of generosity, compassion, and social justice. Zakat is the fourth pillar of Islam and is obligatory for every financially capable Muslim. The literal meaning of the word zakat is 'to cleanse,' Muslims believe that paying Zakat purifies, increases, and blesses the remainder of their wealth. The act of zakat involves the giving of a portion of one's wealth to those in need. The practice of zakat is deeply rooted in the teachings of the Quran and the Sunnah of the Prophet Muhammad. It is one of the most important ways in which a Muslim can purify their wealth and attain spiritual growth. In the Qur'an, Allah has mentioned this act of worship thirty times, among them in Surah Al-Baqarah verse 43.

وَأَقِيمُوا الصَّلَاةَ وَآتُوا الزَّكَاةَ وَارْكَعُوا مَعَ الرَّاكِعِينَ

And establish prayer and give zakat and bow with those who bow [in worship and obedience].

The concept of zakat is based on the principle of social justice. The practice of zakat serves to redistribute wealth within the community and alleviate the suffering of those in need. It is a means of providing for the less fortunate and ensuring that the basic needs of the community are met. Zakat is also an act of worship that serves to strengthen the bond between Muslims and their Creator, as it is seen as a way of seeking the pleasure of Allah.

The practice of zakat is deeply ingrained in the Islamic tradition. It has been emphasized in numerous verses of the Quran and is one of the most important acts of worship in Islam. The act of zakat is not only a means of fulfilling a religious obligation but is also a way of promoting social justice, equality, and compassion.

In this study, we will explain in more detail about the concept of zakat and Asnaf, and explain about the issue of paying zakat outside Malaysia or outside the state of the workplace.
