Forest is the most important natural resources that can be improved and it gives a lot of contribution towards the socio-economic development in our country. Beside that it also gives a lot of advantages to us especially in stabilizing the climate, ecology and environment around and soil conservation. It also becomes a place for the flora and fauna to survive their life. It means that we need a good system in order to make sure that our forest is properly managed. The introduction of Selective Management System in Malaysia had given a good result in the forest management sector.
