My E-HALAL Course & Food Handlers Training

By: Nurizatul Husna Binti Mohd Yusof & Dr Siti Roha Ab Mutalib

MyE-Halal course (Kursus MyE-Halal) and Food Handlers course (Kursus Pengendali Makanan) are two compulsory courses for Food Science and Technology students which are held every semester by Persatuan Teknologi Makanan (PERTEMA) to final year students. These programs provide the knowledge on the food industry requirements in operating a food business. The students were also introduced about the handling of food as set by the Ministry of Health.

The program was organized in collaboration with AGI Resources, an experienced food handler training school which is recognized by the Ministry of Health. These trainings were opened to students who were currently in Semester 6. The training was held on 9 March 2019 at Faculty of Applied Sciences, UiTM Shah Alam. The objective of the programs were to introduce and strengthening science majors and food technology students in the halal field in Malaysia.

The course aimed to educate the students on the techniques of proper food handling and cleanliness. The activities throughout the day were talks on the Malaysian Halal Certification Manual in accordance with the latest specifications and technology of food industry in Malaysia. In addition, students were also taught about MyE-Halal needs and mock MyE-Halal as well as they have been exposed with the challenges and realities of employment in food technology. The training had provided the students with a certification on Food Handling and E-Halal that will be of value when they work for the food industry.
