By: Nor Haslinda Mohamed Alias, Faculty of Applied Sciences, UiTM Shah Alam

“Kumpulan Inovatif dan Kreatif (KIK) Convention” is a yearly event organised by the Institute of Quality and Knowledge Advancement (InQKA), UiTM. Despite the pandemic, the final convention was successfully held virtually on 25 - 26 October 2021 with participations from various faculties. KIK aims to render appreciation and recognition to the staff and faculty involved by providing the opportunity to present their innovative projects.

The Faculty of Applied Sciences (FSG), UiTM Shah Alam reached another milestone by winning a series of awards at KIK Convention in 2021. FSG aims to climb the uphill ladder synergised by its mission to trigger innovation and novelty while improving the work process from a holistic view. The three KIK groups representing the faculty are EPSILON, ENIGMA and INVERSA. In this recent KIK, FSG successfully contributed to the innovation of ‘Kotak Analisis Cap Jari’ (EPSILON), ideas to solve issues of ‘Kelewatan Pengguna Mendapatkan Bahan Kimia di Makmal FSG’ (INVERSA) and also ‘Tombol Pintu Bilik Pensyarah Sering Terkunci’ (ENIGMA).

The faculty won Best Male Presenter Award (Mr. Mohd Azmi Mohd Mukhtar - EPSILON), Best Female Presenter Award (Ms. Nurfarah Farini Muhamad Kamarazzaman - INVERSA), Potential Innovative & Creative Group (INVERSA) and also KIK Project Recognition - Silver Award (INVERSA, EPSILON dan ENIGMA). Indeed, real excellence exists when the synergy and teamwork are at equilibrium. Eureka FSG!
