1.1 Introduction and Organizations Background

Lembaga Tabung Haji (TH) is an Islamic institution that continuously strives in providing the most comprehensive and systematic facilities for the welfare of Malaysian hajj pilgrims. Other than providing a halal savings platform and efficient hajj management services, TH also carries out investment activities to increase the value of depositors' savings with TH.

Lembaga Tabung Haji (TH) is a statutory body governed by the Tabung Haji Act 1995 (Act 535). TH's main activities are hajj pilgrimage management, depository services and investment. TH strives to provide excellent Hajj services to Malaysian pilgrims and its consistent track record has gained world-wide recognition as a role model for innovative Hajj management. TH has about nine million depositors and 107 branches with 10,000 touch-points nationwide. TH also operates from an office in Jeddah, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia under the purview of the Malaysian Consulate.

The idea to set up the Hajj Provident Fund Corporation (Perbadanan Wang Simpanan Bakal-bakal Haji (PWSBH)) was inspired by a proposal made by the renowned Malay economist, the late Royal Professor Allahyarham YM Ungku Abdul Aziz bin Ungku Abdul Hamid in December 1959 to the Federal Government of Malaya. The first step was taken with the establishment of PWSBH under Law No. 34, 1962, in 1963. The corporation was under the purview of the Ministry of Rural Development.

Beginning on 30 September 1963, PWSBH created history by opening counters to collect deposits from prospective hajj pilgrims in the country. Malaysian Muslims were educated at an early age on the need to save in a Shariah-compliant organisation to prepare for their hajj pilgrimage.
