ELSUM'S ENGLISH CARNIVAL BLENDS LEARNING, FITNESS, AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Written by: Shirley Clare Jeri, Imelia Laura Daneil, Stefanie Natasha Rich, and Cindy Robert

The English Language Society of UiTM Mukah (ELSUM) successfully hosted its English Carnival, a dynamic programme designed to promote language learning through creative and engaging activities.

The day began with a lively Zumba session, joined by over 30 participants and led by three student instructors. Set to English hits from the 1990s, the activity served as an energetic warm-up for the subsequent Fun Run. Following light refreshments, more than 50 participants took part in the run, completing six English-themed checkpoints, including "Guess the Idioms," "Charades," "Trivia," and "Spelling Bee." To add to the excitement, participants who answered incorrectly were playfully splashed with water, creating a spirited and memorable atmosphere.

In the afternoon, the Carnival concluded with a Public Speaking Competition, held in conjunction with a workshop conducted the week prior. Twelve students showcased their speaking skills, with three emerging as the top speakers. The session was judged by English lecturers Siti Faridah, Stefanie Natasha Rich, and Cindy Robert, while ELSUM advisor Shirley Clare facilitated the programme. With strong support from the Public Speaking Club, the competition provided a fitting finale to the Carnival.

Beyond the activities, the English Carnival offered valuable experience for ELSUM members, strengthening their skills in planning and organising events, and setting the stage for future initiatives to promote English language learning at UiTM Mukah.
