“Triumph The New Normal”

TAHNIAH

PROF MADYA DR DALELEER KAUR RANDAWAR

- 1 Please briefly share your career journey with UiTM.

I joined UiTM on 3rd January 2003 and was based in UiTM Alor Gajah, Melaka. I got my transfer to Faculty of Law, UiTM Shah Alam in 2006.
- 2 What inspired you to write "The Law on Domestic Violence in Malaysia"? Could you share with us a little bit about the book?

Domestic Violence is a social concern and one of the most insidious forms of gender violence. It does not matter whether or not one is directly linked to its devastating nature. Being directly involved with several support groups, NGOs and the victims personally, have inspired me the need to write this book. "The Law on Domestic Violence in Malaysia" is an invaluable reading for anyone who wants to know more about domestic violence, such as support groups, students, researchers, scholars and practitioners. This book discusses on the law on domestic violence applicable to Muslims and non-Muslims in Malaysia, which is generally based on the latest amendments and developments on the Domestic Violence Act 1994 and several other supplementary statutes. Comparisons with certain selected jurisdictions are made to provide an insight into the law and suggest necessary reforms to suit the modernisation of communities and changing society. Al Fatihah to all of them.
- 3 How do you keep your passion for writing?

I suppose being in the education line, we all are life-long learners. The more we learn, the more we are able to make between various ideas that interest us. Learning opens doors leading to passion and writing is my passion too. I always write about what I love and thus, this makes it easier for me to keep my passion in writing.
- 4 How did you manage your time between teaching, researching and also writing the book?

I believe that when we are planning and managing our time, it is always important to focus on our values and goals. Focusing on and exploring my goals help me to manage my time well in order to accomplish my goals. Having clearly defined goals with specific deadlines make it easier for me to plan my time.
- 5 Last but not least, what is your message to your colleagues and students?

Nothing great has ever been achieved without determination. Hence, embrace your interest and always believe in yourself because we are always responsible for our own happiness.
