1.1 Introduction

In order to complete my studies in Diploma In Plantation And Management at University Technology MARA Campus Mukah (UiTM), it was compulsory to undergo this course practical and industrial training, which require us to explore and experience the real working environment at the estate. I have decided to choose Samarahan Plantation Sendirian Berhad as my practical training place as this authority has become one of the well know authorities in estate in Sarawak.

Objective of the Industrial Training Program

It is compulsory for college student to pass the industrial training before being awarded the Diploma In Plantation And Management. Student will be attached to the Government Department, Organisations or Companies for specific period of time, to be exposed to the actual working environment whereby student will encounter many new problem and challenges. There are several specific industrial training programs objectives:

- To expose student to actual to actual working environment.
- To enhance the student knowledge and skills.
- To instill the qualities, responsibilities, and self-confident.
- To expose student to safety practices and regulations in an industry.
- To instill the spirit of teamwork and good relationship between students and fellow worker.
- To assess the student ability and competency in their preparations to join the workforce upon completion of their studies at college.

5.1 CONCLUSION

After completed my practical training for three months at Samarahan Plantation Sdn Bhd. I have lots of knowledge and experience of working in the oil palm plantation. During the internship I had the best experience from the staff and workers. Therefore, the workers are attending the morning muster everyday to get their own task and there are punctual. The staff and worker are kind and they also explain to us more about the task that has been given to them. They have a good communication and interpersonal skill that are really helping me most. The Samarahan Plantation also provides me staff quarters near the estate and provide food for first month. I always appreciate the knowledge and experience that I learn from Samarahan Plantation Company.
