6.0 CONCLUSION

The agricultural sector is indeed important for the country productivity. The oil palm plantation is one of the fastest growing sectors in Sarawak and it brings a lot of benefits for the country from import to export, stock exchange and etc. During my industrial training at Kemena 2 division, Sujan Estate at KERESA Plantation, I had learned not only about the study of the oil palm itself but also I had learned on how to manage the plantation, how to deal with the workers, how to minimise the budget for better income to the company and dealing with lack of work force of workers.

Based on my practical training, there still new things that still I need to learn. For example, the KERESA Plantation used Elaeidobius Kamerunicus for pollination and etc. Other than that, I had learned to face the real problem in the field when evacuating the crop become slower each day and make the target per day cannot be achieve. There are a lot of common things that are related during my studies for example the herbicides, nutrients and etc.

For me, practical training should always become one of the syllabus because it teaches us more on practical rather than theory. Besides, we learned some new things regarding the management on the estates and workers. Still, 3 months of practical training is not enough for me to study and learn on managing the estate. But, it provides me with great experience that ensure me to be ready to work in the plantation sector in the upcoming days.
