JPI Training Series 2/2025

22 Mei 2025 | Dewan Al-Ghazali
 JPSSM, Bangunan Wawasan, UiTM
 Shah Alam, Selangor

The Workplace Culture Course: How to Create a Healthy Workplace Environment was organized by the Strategic Administration & Human Resources Division (BPSSM), Department of Research & Innovation (JPI) on 22 May 2025, involving participation from JPI administrators and academic administrators.

A prolific speaker from the UiTM Dengkil ASASI Center, Mr. Norhisham Yacob, was specially brought in to discuss scenarios that often occur in the workplace. Various methodologies were used in this course by incorporating psychological elements through color personality tests.

Participants were also given the task of drawing certain objects as an assignment. As a result, the diverse interpretations by the speaker made participants aware of the diversity of personalities and traits that are around us. This helped participants better understand the appropriate approach and communication methods in doing their daily work.
