ABSTRACT

The aim of this study was to examine the relationship between organizational factor, altruism factor, self satisfaction and consequences of not paying Zakat with the determinant of Zakat payment among Muslim community in Dungun. Besides, it is also important to the researcher to identify the most influenced independent variable that affects the payment of Zakat among them.

The dependent variable in this research is the payment of Zakat while the independent variables are organizational factor, altruism factor, self satisfaction and consequences of not paying Zakat.

A survey by questionnaires was used for data collection. The totals of respondents involved in the research were 100 samples. It focused only to those who are paying Zakat since this research is related to Zakat.

The results from the survey were recorded by using Statistical Package for Social Science (SPSS) version 13.0. The researcher was used frequency distribution, reliability analysis, Pearson correlation and multiple regressions to test all data from the questionnaire. All results and analysis with an interpretation will be explained further in chapter finding and analysis.
