1.0 INTRODUCTION

CSC339: Practical Training is a course that helps students relate what they have learned in class to real working experience. This course is compulsory for all Diploma in Computer Science students and is meant to expose students to the industrial working environment. The duration of this practical training is six months.

Through this course, students are given the opportunity to gain hands-on experience in a workplace related to their field of study. It allows students to apply computer science knowledge, tools, and techniques to solve real-life problems.

During the training period, students are able to improve their technical skills and learn how to behave professionally in the workplace. They also develop important skills such as communication, teamwork, and time management. In addition, the course exposes students to current technologies, organizational structures, and real challenges faced in the computing industry. Overall, CSC339 helps prepare students for future employment by building their practical skills and confidence.

2.0 ORGANIZATION HISTORY

Yayasan Sabah, now known as the Yayasan Sabah Group, was established in 1966 under the enactment No.8 of the Sabah State Legislative Assembly, it was founded by the Sabah first Chief Minister, Tun Datu Haji Mustapha bin Datu Harun, also known as the Father of Sabah's Independence. Its establishment aimed to encourage education opportunities, sustainable and equitable economic development and welfare assistance for the Sabahan people.

Throughout the years, the Yayasan Sabah Group has grown its activities from forestry and timber processing into agro-plantation, tourism, biotechnology, property development, oil and gas, and the MICE industry through the Sabah International Convention Centre (SICC). Yayasan Sabah Group was fundamental in advancing education through scholarships, loans, and seed funding to support several higher education institutions, such as University Malaysia Sabah (UMS) and University College Sabah Foundation (UCSF).

Moreover, Yayasan Sabah Group constantly supports community development by way of various social, economic, and welfare programs, while ensuring a strong commitment to sustainable forest management and conservation. Until now, the Yayasan Sabah Group to serve the people of Sabah and contributing to the state's long-term development.
