On 12 March 2023, the participants were transported to Mount Titlis, which is known for its stunning panoramic views surrounded by alpine landscape and for its year-round skiing and snowboarding opportunities. Mount Titlis is located in the Swiss Alps, near the town of Engelberg in the canton of Obwalden. It is one of the highest mountains in the region, with a summit elevation of 3,238 meters (10,623 feet) above sea level. Participants reached the summit by taking the world's first revolving cable car, the Titlis Rotair. At the top of the mountain, participants enjoyed breathtaking views of the alps including the Glacier Cave, a deep crevasse in the ice that has been artificially illuminated to highlight its natural beauty
