CULTURAL DISCOVERY: ESCALATION OF GIETHOORN VILLAGE, VENICE OF THE NETHERLANDS

Giethoorn Village, Netherlands

Giethoorn is a picturesque village located in the province of Overijssel in the Netherlands. It is known for its idyllic canals, wooden bridges, and thatched-roofed houses, which give it a unique and charming character. The village is sometimes referred to as the "Dutch Venice" because of its canals and bridges, which are an important part of its transportation and infrastructure. In fact, the village has no roads, and visitors typically explore it on foot or by boat. Giethoorn has a rich history that dates back to the 13th century, when it was founded by a group of fugitives who settled in the area. Over the years, the village became known for its peat industry and later for its farming and tourism. Participants enjoyed the charming and unique destination that offers a glimpse into traditional Dutch life and culture.
