ABSTRACT

This study is actually to investigate the lack of practice time on principal instrument and the lack of time on doing the course works among the music students in UiTM. It identified the relationship between the reasons on lack of practice time and lack of time on doing course works.

Besides that, this study also helps the students to manage their time properly and dividing the time equally between practice time and course works. Hence, this study can also help to suggest the best way that can lessen the lack of practice time on principal instrument and lack of time on doing course works among music students in UiTM including Bachelor Degree in Music Performance, Bachelor Degree in Music Composition, Bachelor Degree in Music Education and also Diploma in Music.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background of the study

Student life can be busy these days. Almost all students are having a very hectic busy life. Students from all universities from all departments and especially Degree Departments are having that same problem as well.

Nowadays, usually students are very busy at the end of the semester. This is because most students get worried about their assignments and tasks. Therefore, when students are busy with their life, they cannot concentrate on their assignments. As because of this, even some students tries to get the aid from custom writing services to do the assignments for them. Although the services is not so much authentic, reliable, and creative, but it is enough for students as they can pass the subjects and get average marks from the services.

This is because there are many things to do for a student to complete in one day. This includes like keeping up with home tasks, having a quality time with friends, doing term papers and works. There are so much things to do and to reach in a 7-day weeks. Then, there comes the money. More and more students nowadays need to do part-time or even full-time jobs, to be able to survive in this world. As cost of living is getting more and more 'expensive', it is harder for students to cope with both doing their assignments and trying to earn a living at the same time.

Music students are in no exception as well. They are quite busy too. Students with a higher level of semester have a lot more works to do rather than the lower semester students.
