

This is to confirm that the final studies have been completed and brought to attention.

Name : SITI AZURAH MOHAMED GHAZALI

Course : DIPLOMA IN ARCHITECTURE

I/C ITM : 83565036

Checked by :

Lecturer : EN. GHANI DESA

03/11/2005 1987

Marks :

Comments :

Date :

ISLAMIC ARCHITECTURE -
CONTEXT : KUALA LUMPUR

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

PREFACE

1.00 INTRODUCTION

2.00 CONTENTS

2.01 Definition Of Islamic Architecture

2.02 Islamic Concept In Architecture

3.00 THE ARRIVAL OF ISLAM INTO NUSANTARA,
PRIMARILY THE MALAY STATES

3.10 The Meaning Of The Mosque

3.20 The Mosque

3.30 Elements In The Mosque

3.31 The Praying Area

3.32 The 'Mihrab'

3.33 The 'Mimbar'

3.34 The Minaret

3.35 The Ablution

4.00 CONTEXT : KUALA LUMPUR

4.10 Moorish Architecture

4.20 The Beginnings Of Moorish Architecture
In Kuala Lumpur

4.21 The buildings

4.22 The Sultan Abdul Samad Building

4.23 'Bangunan Ibu Pejabat Keretapi Tanah
Melayu'

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am very grateful that I have finally succeeded in finishing this paper. I am especially pleased because there have been many people helping me in this project, thus gathering all the necessary information needed. But first of all, I would like to thank En. Ghani Desa for his encouragement and guidance on the topic that was chosen, enabling to finally conclude the final studies. I would also like to acknowledge the staff at the National Museum, the National Library, Tun Abdul Razak Library and others that I have seek help from.

It is an honour that I was able to find all the information from such helpful people. Again, I would like to say thank you.

2.00 CONTENTS

2.01 DEFINITION OF ISLAMIC ARCHITECTURE

Its definition is usually based on the building itself, the concept of planning and spaces, inter-relationship between the spaces, the material and decoration applied onto the particular building. With this understanding, it is supposed to mirror harmony, unity and the belief that there is Allah. It is also then further harmonized with colours, which are bright and emphasizes the importance of Islam.

During the rule of the Ummayyad, the arts of decorations were at its peak of magnificence and creativity. These Arabs and also others were exposed to the beauty of nature and its surroundings. These people are travellers that move from one frontier to another collecting and translating or converting it into the art. With