ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A lot of persons have encouraged, inspired and supported us in writing of this Project Paper. Thus, we would like to express our gratitude to those individuals that have leave a great impact on our effort, spirit and attitude in the course of completing this mission.

Firstly, our special thanks go to our beloved supervisor, Puan Noraini Mohd Shah for her utmost dedication in enlightening us with this work. She helped us to gain knowledge about Polygamy in Malaysia and introduced us to the contemporary debate surrounding the issues. She helped us to sort out what was important and what we should focus on. Without the continuous motivation, supervision and guidance which come from her, we will forever grope in the darkness of our own ignorance.

We would like also to thanks Puan Noor Hadina, Senior Registrar of Syariah High Court who gave us an opportunity to take up a session of interview. To the library staff in PTAR 2 who helped us to find a way in order to reach to our sources, we really appreciate their co-operation.

Not to forget, we would also like to express our gratitude to our family members for their constant support, be it morally, financially and emotionally. We are thankful to have them to turn to whenever we are in the need of comfort and support. Without their continuous love and attention, we would not be able to complete this challenging task.

Lastly, our love and thanks goes to each other as the member of this group. This research project has been carried out by a team which includes Noordura, Muhammad Ayman and Suhaili. Each of us contributes equally to the project. We've been distribute our work in each chapter and we helped each other to come out with the best idea. It is with such commitment, sense of responsibility and a high degree of team spirit that has lead us to the completion of this task. Our group would not have been able to come up with this good and quality work without the team spirit, passion and good understanding that we have during the completion of this project. Thank you!

ABSTRACT

Our main research deals with how Polygamy is affecting Muslim women in a multicultural society in Malaysia. We do our research by focusing on the Muslim Family Law, a law that only applies to Muslims. We will look at the complexities of implementing a law based on the Qur'an in a modern multicultural society. Dealing with the complexities means touching upon or going into detail about subjects such as human rights, modernisation, patriarchy and identity. The aim is to understand the contemporary debate about the Polygamy by interviewing people in the debate and ask them to think about, what are the problems? What causes these problems? And how can we solve them? We are focusing on the law because it is a way to understand how women are affected in a basic and practical way.

With polygamy our aim is not only to study the impact of the law and the problems women in polygamous marriages are faced with, but the whole idea of forbidding or allowing polygamy in Malaysia. The debate about the Muslim family law will be put into a bigger theoretical framework. This means analyzing the debate and our interviews in a discussion between universal and relativistic values, between a modern interpretation and a traditional interpretation of Islam. Most of all, we want to show how the Muslim family law is affecting women.
