ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, thanks to Allah for giving me the strength and health to complete this research. The success and final outcomes of this research required a lot of guidance and assistance from many people and I am extremely fortunate to have them all along during the completion of my study. Whatever I have done is due to the guidance and assistance.

I would like to express my gratitude to Ms. Juriani Jamaludin, my supervisor who gave me her advice, motivation and guidance on my research report. She is the person who has always guided and inspired me to learn more and also spared her valuable time checking my research report.

I would also like to extend my appreciation to the respondents which are Music Education students at the Faculty of Music, UiTM Shah Alam who assisted me in this research report. Last but not least, I would like to thank my fellow beloved friends for lending their hands during the work of my research report.

Finally, a special thanks to both of my parents, who have always encouraged me along the way and for giving me moral support whenever I need them the most. Without their help this work would have never been possible to be achieved.

Thank You.

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

Background of the topic

This section is about the introduction of the study which includes background of the study, background of the Music Education department, problem statement, research objectives, research questions, significance of study, and definition of terms.

Background of the study

According to Mior (2011), the education system, through the school system, is a very important element for a country especially towards developing the society economically, politically and socially. The school system is not merely to educate the society, but it works as a channel to spread to the people concerning the national struggle that really emphasizes on the ethical values in the multiracial society for the sake of unity. Malaysia is a country that has multiple races, religions and cultures where it is best known for its plural society. The execution of the educational system must follow the needs and suitability of the people in Malaysia. Besides that, Malaysia is a developing country that is on the rise of modern development. Multiple means and actions had been planned and executed to achieve the national mission and vision. The execution has started even before this country had achieved its independence.

Based on Syahmi (2012), Government's steps and efforts include various matters from all angles like the health aspect, education, transportation and many more. It is visible especially when Rahman Talib Report, Education Ordinance, Razak Report and many more had been created toward the development in the field of education. Nowadays, the field of education has definitely been lifted to a higher level when being a teacher is considered a career and a certified profession.
