THE IMPORTANCE OF INDUSTRY TRAINING

Training is a branch of knowledge that provide an opportunity for every student to apply what their learned during in the classroom.

First, Industry training also can reduce nervousness and awkward feeling when student face the reality in working world. The knowledge that student get from the industry training can use to solving the problem that their face in the work sector.

After that, Industry training is important because it makes it easier for student to apply for suitable position after graduation. This is no doubt because in general the firm need individuals with high knowledge and work experience. Therefore, it is possible that the company offer a place for former trainees after graduation.

Lastly student can use the experience and skills during the training period as a guide for the future.

COMPANY BACKGROUND

1.1 FELCRA BERHAD BACKGROUND

FELCRA Berhad previously a Government Statutory Body known as the Federal Land Consolidation and Rehabilitation Authority (FELCRA). FELCRA was established under the Incorporation and Consolidation of Land Consolidation Act of 1 April 1966.

Beginning September 1, 1997, FELCRA has been fully incorporated and changed its status from a Statutory Body to a Government-owned Company entity.

FELCRA Berhad was established under Act 570 of the National Land Rehabilitation and Consolidation (Substitution & Dissolution) Act 1997. The enactment of the new Act has made FELCRA Berhad the Company taking over the role of FELCRA. The changing status of this corporate entity enables FELCRA Berhad to venture into new business areas in line with national development aspirations.

Despite these changes, however, FELCRA Berhad still carries out social responsibility to the community of participants as well as to the rural population. Social bonds are a key prerequisite to FELCRA Berhad's corporate agreement with the Government. With expertise in field management and core activities, FELCRA Berhad has diversified its activities to join the growing industrial and services and business sectors.

As such, FELCRA Berhad aims to be a successful conglomerate, while creating a more dynamic, attractive and profitable rural sector in line with its balanced operating strategy between profit-oriented programs and social obligation programs.
