

DEPARTMENT BUILDING SURVEYING
FACULTY ARCHITECTURE, PLANNING AND SURVEY
MARA UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

THE LEADERSHIP STYLE OF PROJECT MANAGER IN MALAYSIAN (CONTRACTOR FIRMS)

*This desertation is submitted in partial fulfillment of required for the
Bachelor of Building Surveying (Hons)*

PREPARED BY : MOHD ASWADY B. CHE MOHD
YUSOFF
SESSION : (2002/2003)

CHAPTER ONE

1.0	Introduction	1
1.1	Problem Statement	3
1.2	Aim and Objective of The Research	5
1.3	Research Methodology	6
	1.3.1 Primer Data	6
	1.3.2 Secondary Data	6
1.4	Sequence of Research Work	7
	1.4.1 Planning Stage	8
	1.4.2 Data Collection Stage	8
	a) Literature Review	8
	b) Survey/Investigation	9
	c) Determination the Leadership Style of Project Manager Performance	9
	1.4.3 Analysis Stage	9
1.5	Sequence of Content Proposal	10
	Chapter 1: Introduction.	11
	Chapter 2: Management	11
	Chapter 3: Leadership	11
	Chapter 4: The Project Manager	12
	Chapter 5: Research Analysis and Evaluation	12
	Chapter 6: Conclusion and recommendation	12

1.6	Research and Limitation	13
1.7	Limitation	14

CHAPTER TWO

2.0	Defination of Management	15
2.1	The Process Management	16
2.2	The Four Management Functions	17
2.2.1	Planning	17
2.2.2	Organizing	18
2.2.3	Leading	18
2.2.4	Controlling	19
2.3	Organization Performance	20
a)	Effectiveness	23
b)	Efficiency	24
c)	Performance	25
2.4	Construction Project Management	26
2.5	Construction Project	27
2.6	Project Objective	29
2.6.1	Objective Project Management	31
2.7	Parties Involves in Construction	32
2.7.1	Typical Organization in The Project	36
Team From The Conventional

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the name of Allah, the most gracious and most merciful.

Alhamdulillah, firstly I am most grateful to our mighty Allah S. W, T. who gave me the idea and physical strength in preparing this dissertation. I wish to express my gratitude individuals and all parties who have responded to the survey and also offered their valuable contributions in carrying out this dissertation.

I would like to express my appreciation and acknowledgement to my supervisor En. Ellemmy Iskandar Bin Khalid who gave me guidance and unfailing support. My gratitude is also extended to him for his valuable suggestion for this topic, his guidance and contribution of ideas in preparing this dissertation. I would like, so to extend my gratitude to all lecturers, Building Surveying Department, UiTM who have taught and allowed me to attain this level of education.

My gratitude also goes to all those who agreed to all of those who so conscientiously and scrupulously responded to the questionnaire, my heartfelt thanks

CHAPTER ONE

1.0 Introduction.

Malaysian is now experiencing a building and construction boom. Development project are mushrooming all over the country. The country's economy has experienced an upward surge for the last couple of years and will continue to do so. Mega project and a whole range of other development activities undertaken by both the government and private sector will spearhead the country's development. Under the Malaysian Incorporated Concept and its accelerated privatisation programmes, it is envisaged that if the momentum is sustained, the country will achieve developed nation status sooner than the year 2020.

In tandem with such heightened activities there will correspondingly be a need for a new breed of professionals to act as interface between client / developer / investor and the rest of the project consortium team. Appropriately termed as Project Consultants or Project Managers, such professionals specializing in the Art and science of the Project Management play an integral role in the development process.

The pre-requisites for such professionals are a qualification with multi-disciplinary knowledge and relevant practical experience to play the role of