ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This study has been materialized because of the advice, patience, encouragement and also assistance of many. To each and everyone, I extend my sincere gratitude.

Firstly, I would like to express my heartiest gratitude and sincere appreciation to my supervisor, Mr. Nasirin bin Abdillah, for his untiring effort and never ending assistance, patience, mentorship as a supervisor and calming influence which were helpful to me upon completing this study. Without your guidance, all this would not have come into reality.

My heartfelt appreciation and gratitude to my beloved husband, who willingly and without hesitation agreed to take care of our children. "Thanks a million for your support, patience and understanding".

Not forgetting to all the lecturers of B. Ed. TESL and my course-mates, your support, encouragement and cooperation will never be forgotten.

Last but not least, thank you to Allah the Almighty for giving me the strength to complete this study.

Abstract

This research concentrates on the importance of music and song as teaching material in an English language classroom. It tries to confirm that the used of music and song as a strategy can enhance pupils interest in learning the English Language.

The general aim of this study is to find out the implications of music and song towards English Language learning in the classroom. The study begins with the background of music and song, the different types of music and songs and different findings from previous researches. Since music and song is too wide, this research will concentrate on the use of a jazz chant and a song in enhancing pupils' language learning. The focus will be on the teaching of grammar.
