

How far I'll fly

By Dr Nur Ilianis Adnan

I've been staring at the beauty of the blue sky As long as I can remember Never really knowing why wish I could be like the others But my heart never wants to be like the rest No matter how hard I press Every step I take Every route I track Every move I make Every path leads back To the place I know where it's hard to go Where I long to be See the magical horizon from the sea It calls me And nobody knows How far it goes If the magic in my prayers shines on me, That day you'll know If I fly, there's just no telling how far I'll fly (Adapted from How Far I'll go- Moana)

A girl had a dream

To walk along a tranquil road

Without bumps Without holes Without spectators

However, happened it not.

The girl, too, had a wish
To be surrounded by loving souls
Without conditions
Without regrets
Without trials

However, happened it not.

The girl has another desire
To make peace with her destiny
Whatever happened is her story
However it happened remains a memory.
