ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, we would like thank God Almighty without whose blessing we will not able to complete and successfully finish this research study.

Completing this research was a challenging moment and valuable experienced for us. Fortunately, we had the help from various parties that made this research less complex. It teaches us things do not fall and work out as we expected and we have to do such.

Our Supervisor, Mdm. Dg. Siti Noor Saufidah Binti Hj. Ag.Mohd Saufi deserves a special dedication here. She gave very much attention and countless of effort in guiding us and always insistent in the meetings and datelines which make us easier and not in a rush. Her toughness and thoughtful attitudes made us work harder and we were so grateful to have her as our supervisor for this whole year.

Thank you for both our parents, friends and family for giving their moral support and financial support as to ease our journey in completing this research.
