	2.2.4 Self-Motivation in volunteerism	12-13
	2.2.5 Family in volunteerism	13
2.3	Conceptual Framework	13-15
2.4	Summary	15-16

Chapter 3: Research Method

3.1	Introduction	17
3.2	Research design	17
3.3	Unit / Level of analysis	18
3.4	Sample size	18-19
3.5	Sampling technique	20
3.6	Measurement/Instrumentation	20-21
3.7	Data collection	21-22
3.8	Data analysis	22

Chapter 4: Findings

4.1	Introduction	23
4.2	Reliability analysis	23
4.3	Descriptive table: Profile of respondents	24-26
4.4	The responses table of questionnaire	27-30
4.5	Descriptive analysis	31-35
4.6	The multiple linear regression analysis	36

Chapter 5: Discussion and Conclusion

5.1	Introduction	37
5.2	Discussion	37-40
5.3	Recommendation	41-42

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost we would like to express our highest gratitude to Allah S.W.T, the Almighty for granting us the will and strength to finish this research on time. Without His blessing and permission, this research could not have been completed.

Secondly, we would like to express our gratitude to all our family members, who care about us, and giving us all the support that they can in hoping that we will be successful in anything that we do. Without their support, it would be a hard time for us to finish this research.

Next is to our research supervisor, Mr Tony Paridi Bagang for his guidance, advice and critics along the development of this research. Without his continuous support and interest, this research paper would not have been completed.

Last but not least, we would like to give our thanks to our friends whose there for us when we needed them to share our problems and help us regarding the research conducted and to everybody involve direct or indirectly. Thanks for the inspiring us in such a means that could not be written in words.

ABSTRACT

Nowadays, youth volunteerism is very crucial in developing a community especially among university students that had great potential to serve as volunteers. The main objectives of it are to explore the student's participation in volunteerism activities and to determine the factors that influence student's involvement in it. A convenience sampling technique had been used and about 217 students of final year degree of Faculty of Psychology, Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS) had been chosen to be our respondent for this research. As for the questionnaires, it has 2 section which is Section A for personal information and Section B for the independent variables which consists of 5 main question including recognition, awareness, self- motivation and family. The data then were been analyzed by using Reliability Test, Normality Test, Descriptive Test, and Multiple Regression Analysis of the Statistical Package for Social Science (SPSS) version 2.0. The result showed that all variables are positively influenced the involvement of university student in volunteerism activities. However, there is one variable that indicates has highly influenced the student involvement which is self-motivation among university student in UMS.
