Tips to Succeed in O D L

Prepared by Ts. Dr. Ratna Zuarni Ramli

Traditional education has been reformed drastically within the last couple of years. Meeting face to face in the same space is not the only way of learning anymore. It is difficult to discard the common way of conventional face to face classroom learning, but there is no need to be sceptical with learning through the internet. Here are some of the tips of conducting online distance learning (ODL).

For Lecturer

1. Share the Expectation

Type of activities that students will engage to, assessment arrangement, behavioural guidelines - set and share!

2. Upload Course Materials VouTube

Prepare cute notes or appealing video, share and update (frequently!)

3. Start Small

Starting small means, you can start immediately. Avoid becoming overwhelmed by trying to do too much too soon - too much till unable to control.

4. Have special synchronous session

Scheduled at the beginning of the course so students can arrange their schedules if they able to participate

5. Open a Virtual cafe

Create a space for bonding outside the content -related course areas

6. Spot the difference

Some of the strategies and techniques that you employ in class might not working in ODL. Gain data from students to inform your future planning.

7. Seek the Feedback

Not only from the students, but faculty members, their friends and even their parents.

For Student

Define your reasons for studying

Create a study space

Find your friends

Schedule in your studying

Control procrastination 😊

Build a good relationship with your tutor

> Embrace the journey and take a break
