

VOICE of the SOUL

A Compilation of Poems

Fore Word

It has been my utmost pleasure to announce the first publication of a poetry book initiated and hosted by Akademi Pengajian Bahasa (APB), Universiti Teknologi MARA (UiTM) Kedah Branch. The original idea of the book has been proposed by the speaker of a webinar entitled Voice of the soul: Collection of Short Poems, Puan Hajjah Sharina Saad and later she set up an editorial team to realize the mission. As the head of department, I will always support initiative like this one and will be looking forward for the coming editions of more creative writing books in the future.

While we may live and work in different campuses and in different fields, we all share the same core giving philosophy. This book captures that philosophy and shows that it is more than a fable or a pipe dream. It is real, it is original words from all of you who have contributed your poems in the first edition of this poetry book. This is the real art of giving. A book of poems from academicians to academicians.

Congratulations to the editorial team and to all contributors.

Azlan Abdul Rahman

Pre Face

It is our pleasure to introduce this first edition of the poetry book called Voice of The Soul: Collection of poems which originated from a webinar series entitled Voice of the Soul: Collection of Short Poems organized and hosted by Academy of Language Studies and ILD Universiti Teknologi Mara Kedah Branch. The major purpose of the workshop is to learn how language expresses feelings and emotions and to encourage lecturers to write creatively as a hobby or perhaps a therapy from stress at work. During the webinar, participants were introduced to poetry writing and were encouraged to submit their written poems to be published as a creative work. Alhamdulillah, we received a remarkable response from the participants, and we extended the invitation to interested lecturers from various campuses all over Malaysia. Within a month period, 150 poems have been successfully compiled from interested 118 lecturers and academicians from UiTM and other higher learning institutions.

The aim of the poetry book is to provide in one edition, a compilation of unpublished poems from academicians to unleash the potential in them to become better writers. To encourage the beginners to write their poems, the selections in the edition are free verse and the writers are given freedom to choose their own themes. The themes include love and life, family, happiness, experiences, positivity, hopes, spiritual, education and life during the pandemic. The poems reflect the poets' inner voices and their own perception on certain issues in life and their environment. It is hoped that readers of this book would benefit personally and professionally.

Finally, this book could not have come into reality without a great deal of assistance and encouragement from many sources. We must acknowledge the great efforts of the contributors of the poems who have penned down their creative juices and diligently wrote their masterpieces. Our hope is that they will continue to write poems in the future because Poetry has a power to inspire change like no other art form.

Acknowledgement

Inspired by the words from Friedrich Nietzsche,

“One must still have chaos in oneself to be able to give birth to a dancing star.”

I have always like to encourage others to write poems because I believe there is a little poet in you waiting to come to light. All you need to do is dig into yourself for deep answers to all your doubts and worries and let them be expressed into words that you have been keeping in your head for a long time. I suppose you must have felt relief and pleased after letting go your inner voices. You have just produced your masterpiece! I am delighted that you have finally poured your heart out and let your voices from the soul to come out to create wonderful poetries in this book.

Please be proud that now you can call yourself a poet.

I would like to personally thank the head of Akademi Pengajian Bahasa Encik Azlan Bin Rahman for the utmost support and to the diligent editorial team for the effort and dedication to the publication of the first edition of the poetry book. My heartfelt gratitude goes to each one of you who has contributed your poems. Keep up the good work and keep writing poems.

Voice of The Soul: A compilation of Poems is published today because of you. Congratulations and Thank You everyone.

Anger and Fire

By Noraziah Mohd Amin

A heated argument
That ignites the sparks of resentment
Inside, there is a burning anger
And like a raging fire

The heart is engulfed in furious flames
Triggered by all the claims and blames
And every curse is like adding fuel to the fire

Flaring up more temper
Turning the heart blazing red
A fire flaming wild and mad
As the fiery words are bullets shot
Piercing through your heart till it bleeds a lot
And your ears are burning with the words
And your mind is a mess like a pile of tangled cords

In between the words, you hear flickering whispers
That tell your heart to do what it desires
Between sanity and insanity
Between rationality and irrationality
The heart and mind are at war
Unsure of what to do anymore

Still hearing the chaotic noises of screaming and yelling
And still the ears are fuming and steaming
Then suddenly an idea comes to your mind
You need to make your ears deaf and eyes blind
So, you put your hands firmly on your ears
And you close your eyes tight till you shed some tears
Slowly the noises dissipate before they're fully gone
Then, you realize you're standing there alone.

Anger is like fire
An emotional disaster
Patience is like water
A mental soother
To stop the heart from blazing with anger
Is not as easy as calling a firefighter
But there is one answer to this puzzle
You need only patience though this is always a struggle
As patience is not ingrained and is difficult to gain
Thus, emotion is always faster than the brain
But if patience is there embracing your heart
The fire of anger is hard to start...
