Did you know sesame seed are an incredibly nutritious food?

Sesame seeds are tiny, oil-rich seeds that grow in pods on the Sesamum indicum plant.

👉 Sesame seeds are an awesome source of healthy fats, protein, B vitamins, minerals, fiber, antioxidants, and other beneficial plant compounds.

👉 Sesame Seeds Lower Cholesterol and Triglycerides. Sesame seeds help reduce heart disease risk factors, including elevated triglyceride and "bad" LDL cholesterol levels.

👉 Sesame Seeds are Good Source of Plant Protein. Sesame seeds supply 5 grams of protein per 3-tablespoon (30-gram) serving, thereby making it to be a good source of protein, which is a necessary building block for your body.

👉 Sesame Seeds Aid Weightloss. Sesame seeds help burn belly and general body fat and lose weight, the healthy way, because it is packed with nutrients including protein, fibre, iron, vitamins, and omega-3 fatty acids that help fat and lose weight.

Do you want to know some fun facts about chocolate?

❤️ It takes 400 cocoa beans to make one pound of chocolate.

❤️ Each cacao tree produces approximately 2,500 beans.

❤️ Research to date supports that chocolate can be enjoyed as part of a balanced, heart-healthy diet and lifestyle.

❤️ The average serving of milk chocolate has about the same amount of caffeine as a cup of decaf coffee. Most interesting,

❤️ Studies have demonstrated that one of the major saturated fats in chocolate does not raise cholesterol like other hard fats—meaning chocolate can be enjoyed in moderation.

Fun Facts about PINEAPPLES ! 🍍

🍍 A pineapple can take up to 3 years to grow and mature into a plant.

🍍 Only one pineapple is produced by a single plant in a single season

🍍 A pineapple is not a pine or an apple. Its actually a berry.

🍍 Sponge Bob squarepants lives in a pineapple under the sea.

🍍 You can grow pineapple plants by slicing off the top of a pineapple and planting it in soil.

!!! FACTS ABOUT PANDAN THAT YOU MUST KNOW !!!

Pandan (Pandanus amaryllifolius), also known as fragrant screw pine, is a very aromatic herb that is a popular flavoring in Southeast Asian cuisine. Pandan's long, blade-like leaves impart grassy-vanilla/subtle nutty flavor to dishes. In the Philippines, it is used in rice-based pastries, desserts (such as buko pandan and sorbetes), beverages (sago't gulaman), and more. Pandan leaves are also added to steamed rice to enhance aroma.

✨ FUN FACTS: The aroma of pandan is caused by 2-acetyl-1-pyrroline, key aromatic compound which is also present in Thailand's jasmine rice and Philippines' dinorado rice variety. ✨

Well, that's a fun facts about Pandan leaves 🌿 You could get the taste of pandan in our Coconut Pandan Cookies 🍪.

Interesting nuggets about Eid cookies and culture!

Eid cookies, also known as biskut raya, are a beloved treat during the festive season of Eid al-Fitr, especially in Malay culture.

These bite-sized delicacies come in a variety of flavors, from sweet and sticky to the flaky and buttery kuih semperit 🍪.

Some of the popular Eid cookies amongst Malays, such as kuih bangkit and kuih tart 🍪, are made with tapioca flour, which gives them a unique texture and taste.

Additionally, the making and sharing of Eid cookies are deeply rooted in Malay culture, and it is a common practice to exchange them with family, friends, and neighbors as a gesture of goodwill and togetherness. ✨

Is cereal cookies are healthy?

In spite of its decadent name, Cookie Crisp cereal is actually an excellent source of vitamins, minerals, iron, and calcium. It's made with whole grain and contains at least 10 grams of whole grain per serving. It doesn't contain any high fructose corn syrup and is free from both artificial colors and flavors.

Despite being whole grain, it only offers 2 grams of fiber per serving, which is also below the 3 – 5 grams recommended fiber for breakfast cereals.

Overall, Cookie Crisp cereal provides plenty of mineral nutrients, is a source of whole grain food, and is a cereal kids love. For those reasons, it's not considered too unhealthy when eaten in moderation.

WHY CORNFLAKES ARE MADE?

Originally invented as a breakfast food to counter indigestion, it has become a popular food item in the American diet.

The cereal, originally made with wheat, was created by Will Kellogg in 1894 for patients at the Battle Creek Sanitarium where he worked with his brother John Kellogg who was the superintendent.

Despite just for breakfast, it's actually to stop women to do unhealthy habits in the morning. 😊

Conclusion

In conclusion, this assignment is very beneficial for both of us as it develop our entrepreneurship and marketing skills. Using Facebook as the platform to promote the product is very helpful for the business to grow and reach its target customers because Facebook is the most used social media from various age group.

As the business is still new, there are many things that we need to learn in order to make sure we can reach the customers and deliver their needs and wants through our products and services. We will continue to provide the best cookies that could be enjoy by many people and strive to be a well- known cookies seller in Malaysia.
