

Walailak University Delegation Visits UiTM: Strengthening Collaboration and Exploration

The recent visit of a delegation from Walailak University, Thailand, was a significant step towards strengthening academic and research connections between two prestigious institutions. The delegation was led by the Dean of Walailak University, Dr. Jiraporn Chingunpitak, and included the Head of the Research Institute, Asst. Prof. Dr. Namfa Sermkaew, a member of the International Affairs Committee, and the Manager of Professional Practices (Pharm Care), Miss Tiwaporn Thongsutt.

The purpose of the visit, which was filled with exciting activities, was to promote collaboration and strengthen connections between Walailak University and UiTM. Both institutions explored many possibilities for collaboration, including research projects, academic exchanges, and student activities. This conversation not only laid the groundwork for prospective joint initiatives but also highlighted both universities' commitment to advancing knowledge and education. An important focus of the visit was the coordination of clerkships. This essential aspect of academic cooperation ensures that students from both universities can benefit from a variety of educational opportunities while enhancing their skills as future pharmacists.

A highlight of the visit was the comprehensive laboratory tour, during which the delegation from Walailak University had the opportunity to explore various research facilities, such as the Clinical Pharmacy Simulation Laboratory, Collaborative Drug Discovery Research (CDDR) Laboratory, Integrative Pharmacogenomics Institute (iPROMISE), and Laboratory Animal Facility and Management (LAFAM), Faculty of Pharmacy, UiTM Puncak Alam. Furthermore, the delegation paid a visit to ADAS Apothecary which is the Faculty of Pharmacy retail pharmacy, and the Pharmacy Department, Hospital Al-Sultan Abdullah (HASA), to further enrich their comprehension of pharmaceutical practices and healthcare services in Malaysia. This cultural exchange was enlightening and enriching because it provided insight into the local healthcare environment.

In conclusion, the Walailak University delegation's visit was fruitful and productive, reinforcing both institutions' commitment to mutual development and academic excellence. The discussions conducted and experiences shared during this visit will undoubtedly result in innovative future collaborations and developments. This visit exemplifies the effectiveness of international partnerships in advancing education, research, and healthcare practices for the greater good of society.
