ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim, by The Name of Allah, I have been so grateful, gracious and the most merciful of His blessing to all of my effort and finally make me successfully done this undergraduate project (HTM655). I would like to extend my deepest praise to Allah SWT who had given me the patient, strength, determination, health and courage to complete this project throughout this semester. This task helps me to gain more knowledge, experience and information that was beyond my expectation and thinking.

I would like to take this opportunity to give a special thanks to my Supervisor, Sir Rahman bin Abdullah for all his advises and encouragement where always been helpful and considerate to me as his students in completing this project. He is always being passion and mostly spend his time to guide me where opened my mind to be more creative and to apply critical thinking in my study until I had made to this excellent job. He helped me from zero until I actually know what I really had to do. His advice gave me more insight about the study.

Massive thanks to my amazing lecturers for giving me advice, knowledge and encourage her students to finish this study. I would like to thank Madam Jazira Binti Anuar for lending their time and ears to assist us in completing our research hence helped us gain more information regarding the study.

Besides that, our deepest appreciation and gratitude goes to my lovely parents Rosli bin Amit and Mary binti Saban for giving me the opportunity and financial support to continue my study in this degree level until I managed to finish it. With their continuous support, I managed to settle this and make them proud.

This special acknowledgement I have also forward to my fellow friends and classmate who are always support and cooperate with each other's even though we are set in individual project. A big thank to them where they are always there with me whenever I were lost in the middle of the research and encouraged me to not give up. A big thanks for those who always help me.

ABSTRACT

The addition of students' academic performance, more students can become successful after further study and make them easy to find a job after graduation. This research study main objective is to investigate the relationship between course subject resources and student's academic performances. This study want to find the effect on teaching resources towards students' academic performance either can be improve according to students interest. Study in the school or college had an effect on their academic performance depends on syllabus content where students immersed the topic or subject or the way of lecturers teaching method where make students learning until they understand and manage to solve the problem. Some students manage to score the syllabus or topic depends on experience in the practical class and some into the theory class. The infrastructure on the school or college can enhance students' knowledge and their confident level to further the study where ease them to do some practical assignment or task and at least student become more confidents when performing the assignment in front of people. This experience for students in the real life for their future where they need to expose during the study and start to think positive. The guidance from lecturer professional took the effective way of cognitive and psychomotor to increase the students' performance where they are more have an experience and knowledge in their programs. The results will shows where the most effective to make students success in academic performance either in the syllabus content, lecturer professionalism, teaching and learning activities and infrastructure.
