MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF EDITOR

Welcome to our very first magazine, "Research News"! I'm thrilled to be the Chief Editor and share with you all the amazing stuff happening at our institution in the world of research and innovation. Research News will be published every two months, packed with updates, achievements, and stories from our researchers.

In this edition, you'll find a mix of news, highlights from our office, and the great work our researchers are doing. We're especially proud to showcase how research can make a real impact in solving problems and making life better for people.

Big thanks to everyone at the Office of Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research & Innovation) and the Research Communication & Visibility (UKPV) unit for making this magazine happen.

Let's dive in together and explore the world of research and innovation. Thanks for your support, and I hope you enjoy reading "Research News"!
