Latex and Rubber

Compounding Seminar (Module 1)

By: Dr Norazura Ibrahim,
Orchestrated Polymer Research
Group (OPoR)

The Latex and Rubber Compounding Seminar (Module 1) was conducted by Polymer Technology Youth Society (PTyS) in collaboration with the Orchestrated Polymer Research Group (OPoR) on 12th April 2019 at Faculty of Applied Sciences, UiTM Shah Alam. The seminar aimed to encourage students and researchers to develop an understanding and to provide a platform to discuss current research and development on latex and rubber issues.

The first lecture was given by Mr. Khairul Muis Bin Mohamed Yusof, Chief Chemist II of the Sime Darby Research Sdn. Bhd. Mr. Khairul Muis delivered a lecture on two topics, "Best rubber estate practices for good quality of field latex & cup lump supply" and "Latex concentrate processing, quality monitoring & quality issues". Next, a lecture on "Rubber compounding ingredients and products formulations" was given by Prof. Dr Azemi Samsuri who is the Director of ANURAZ Sdn. Bhd. and a member of the Editorial Board Committee of Journal of Rubber Research (JRR). Both speakers are alumni of Polymer Technology Programme. The seminar was attended by 60 participants which consisted of undergraduate and postgraduate students.

Technology Day

By: Dr Norazura Ibrahim

PUTRAJAYA January 30, 2019 - The NR Technology Day which was held at Heriot Watt University had a line-up of highly experienced researchers and experts among the natural rubber research communities. Bearing the theme "Natural Rubber: From tree to tire", this event was a technical-focus occasion towards cooperation among Continental partners, NR producers, research institutes and academic institutions to explore the technical potential of natural rubber and add value to the chain from tree to tire. This event offered participants the starting ground to exchange ideas, discover novel opportunities, reacquaint with colleagues,
