Writing with Clarity and Confidence: UiTM Mukah Hosts LCC112 Writing Workshop

Authors: Stefanie Natasha Rich Joseph, Cindy Robert, Shirley Clare Jeri, Fakhira Datu Jafri and Bolkhan Median

On 8 May 2026, the English lecturers from the Academy of Language Studies, Universiti Teknologi MARA Mukah Campus, successfully conducted the LCC112 Expository Writing Workshop: Writing with Clarity and Confidence at Dewan Tellian UiTM Mukah Campus. The programme took place from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and drew the participation of around 140 Semester 2 Diploma students enrolled in the LCC112 course for the 20262 semester.

The workshop aimed to enhance students' understanding of expository essay writing by focusing on the organisation of ideas and the development of clear and convincing arguments. The invited speaker, Bolkhan bin Median, shared his knowledge and experience in academic writing throughout the session. As an experienced teacher of the Malaysia University English Test (MUET), he provided valuable insights into effective writing techniques and academic communication. During the workshop, students were introduced to the fundamental structure of an expository essay, including the arrangement of introductions, body paragraphs and conclusions. Particular emphasis was placed on coherence and parallelism, which are essential elements in producing well-organised and meaningful academic writing.

Through guided explanations and practical examples, participants learned methods of presenting ideas logically while maintaining smooth transitions between sentences and paragraphs. The workshop also encouraged active student participation through discussions and short writing activities. The workshop successfully provided students with practical exposure to academic writing techniques that are essential for their coursework and future academic pursuits. By the end of the session, participants had gained clearer strategies for writing structured and effective expository essays with greater clarity and confidence.
