CHAPTER 1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 INTRODUCTION

This report is the result of study and data collection to assist in the design of the proposed project at the end of bookstore and cafe. In this project students are required to prepare a design strategy or scheme based on the research issues, such as the students should know about how to design a space with specific requirements. For an example for designing a bookstore should considering much things, a bookstore owners and managers have spent much time and money experimenting how to entice customers into their stores and help select and buy books, so the interior design of the store should interesting, unique and fresh look. As well as in design the cafe, all this things has to consider in a design.

This project is to attract many people to come in this bookstore and cafe in addition to create a practical and a new concepts to customers by providing a quality service. The selection of this project is to highlight the new design for the bookstore and cafe for karangkraf and to find a way about how to compete with other established company.

In this bookstore and cafe project the students have to do many research about the rules and regulations to open the bookstore cafe, such as how to encouraging interaction between the bookstore and the cafe, and to solve the problems whether to allow customers to take unpurchase books into the cafe or food into the bookstore, because of the policy set by a store depends largely on the design and how closely the two operations are intergrated.
