ABSTRACT

The issue of failures among DIA students at UiTM Melaka Branch is explored. This study presents factors contributing to the failures. The result of the study shows that punctuality, goal commitment and social and psychological issues are factors that contribute to DIA students' failure to complete their study within stipulated time. It is also found that there is significant difference between the failures and the graduates on factors such as goal commitment and social and psychological issue.

DIA students UiTM Melaka Branch from two different groups that is the failures and the graduates are used as sample to test the hypothesis. Structured questionnaires were distributed to 99 students during class hour. The result of this study was supported by Garba&Aldosary(99), Tinto(75) and W. Astin(64)
