

A LEGAL STUDY ON THE CHILD'S CUSTODY UPON ONE OF THE PARENT CONVERSION IN MALAYSIA

By

Nik Nurus Amilin Nik Jallalluddin (2007144065)

Nursyathirah Mohd Lutfi (2007143945)

Salwani binti Mahasan (2007143979)

Roslina binti Idris (2007143973)

Submitted in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Bachelor in Legal Studies
(Hons)

Universiti Teknologi MARA

Faculty of Law

April 2010

The students confirm that the work submitted in their own and that appropriate credit has been given where reference has been made to the work of others.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We wish to thank to Almighty Allah, because of His bless, we are granted with a good health and able to finish this challenging research and as always, there are those who need to be thanked for their willingness assistance on this work.

First, of all we would like to express our highest gratitude to our supervisor for this research, Puan Nadia Bt Omar who provided encouragement and guidance in ways we never imagined.

We also owed a particular debt of gratitude to our parents. These noble person in our life always gave us either moral or money support to us. Personally, our deepest thanks go to them.

Not forgetting to Dr Normi bt Abdul Malik and Dr Nora bt Abdul Hak an academicians from University Islam Antarabangsa Malaysia. Thank you for humbly lending us their time and providing us with the much needed knowledge on this subject.

And last but not least all of our friends deserve a special mention. All of them remain patient and cheerful even when we were working under considerable pressure.

Finally, to all these people and to others who have in one way or other, given us invaluable help, assistance and advice, we are profoundly grateful for their generous assistance.

Roslina Bt Idris

Salwani Bt Mahasan

Nursyathirah Bt Mohd Lutfi

Nik Nurus Amilin Bt Nik Jallalludin

ABSTRACT

Nowadays, the right of child custody after one of his or parent converted into Islam becomes a critical and conflict issue between Muslim and non-Muslim party. Till now, it cannot be resolved. Most cases are decided in favour of mother. What about the right of father? Is it should be ignored? The existing statutes or laws regulating the child custody are still not enough and should be amended to provide justice for both parties. What about the right of the child? Should it be taken into consideration too? Both Syariah and Civil Court could not intervene each other as they have their own jurisdiction provided under the Federal Constitution. It was limited for both parties to grant the right of custody as it was still vigorous. How it should be determined and solved? That is why this research will be conducted where to find out what are the basis of the problem and its solution to grab. We will look forward Civil and Syariah law perspectives.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Title page	i
Acknowledgement	ii
Abstract	iii
List of Cases	vii
List of Statutes	vii

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction	1-2
1.2 Background	3-4
1.3 Problem Statement	5
1.4 Objectives of the study	6
1.5 Methodology	7
1.6 Limitation of Study	8
1.7 Significant of Study	9
1.8 Provisional Plan	10
1.9 Conclusion	11

CHAPTER 2: AN INSIGHT ON THE CUSTODIAN

2.1 Introduction	12
2.2 Civil Law Perspectives	12-15
2.3 Custody in Syariah Law
2.3.1 Islamic Schools view on custody	15- 16
2.3.2 Islam as one of the requirement to get custody.	16-18

2.3.3 Syariah Law in Malaysia	18-19
2.4 Conclusion	19

CHAPTER 3: LEGAL STANDING ON THE RIGHT OF CHILD'S CUSTODY

3.1 Introduction	20
3.2 Civil Law stands on child's custody	20
3.2.1 Guardianship of Infants Act 1961	20-21
3.2.2 Law Reform (Marriage and Divorce) Act 1976	21-22
3.2.3 Commentaries on Guardianship of Infants Act 1961 and Law Reform (Marriage and Divorce) Act 1976	23-26
3.2.4 Commentaries over the cases	26
3.3 Syariah Law stands on the child's custody	27-30
3.3.1 Requirement to have a right of custody	30-32
3.3.2 Conclusion on the Syariah Law	32
3.4 Conclusion	32