ABSTRACT

The Islamic management system is a very complete system which it is completely and systematically guided by al-Quran and al-Sunnah. The Islamic management principles are clear, management arrangements and planning organized, through and detailed supervision and motivation which has a solid foundation for the pleasure of Allah SWT and not merely wealth and worldly matters. Hence, to understand the systematically and completeness of the Islamic teachings, limited studies has been conducted to examine the practice of Islam in the management and organization. Therefore, this paper aims to study the appreciation of Islamic management practices in the organization among UiTM Puncak Alam Staff. The study utilizes a quantitative research design by using survey and questionnaire with the selected UiTM Puncak Alam Staff. The findings of this study indicate that UiTM Puncak Alam Staff have a great appreciation of Islamic management practices and they have implemented these practices in their organizations. However, there is a great opportunity for improvement in the future with regards to Islamic management practices.
