ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research project was conducted with a team of three persons which included Siti Fatimah binti Md Kassim, Norahimah binti Shaari and Muhammad Akhir bin Suhaimi with the help and supervision of our respectful supervisor, Tuan Lee Chong Fook. Therefore, first and foremost, we would like to offer our utmost gratitude and appreciation to Tuan Lee for being there as our guidance. Without his guidance, we would be lost as to what and how to properly carry out the research. His patience and tolerance in helping us in the research have really made our research went better than we could have done by ourselves. His guidance has also provided us with a deeper understanding on the area which we are venturing into. We are also grateful for the kindness given by Encik Yahya, Caretaker and founder of Kem Kewaja, for the time spent in taking part in the interview conducted. His co-operation has helped in a great deal of number in providing our research with a lot of valuable information. Not mentioning his willingness in giving us the chance to interview some of victims in the centre itself. That is by all means, something that words can never be enough to show how grateful we are in the first place. Other than that, we would also like to give our blessing to our family members and not forgetting our friends for being there to support us mentally and physically. Last but not least, we are thankful for everyone that has helped us directly or indirectly in providing support with regard to the completion of our research project.

ABSTRACT

The objective of the study is to identify problems faced by victims of incest and to discuss on relevant area which might be related to the problem such as matters pertaining to protection centre for incest victims, police role in facing this offence and society's role in curbing incest and helping victims get through this horrible experience. Eventhough incest is not new to our country even to the world, how deep do people actually know about it and do people actually realize that this problem is far worst then they actually think. That is why this topic was selected as our research topic, because it might provide us with deeper understanding on the problem thus giving us knowledge to pass on to others. Through this research, it is hope that the actual statistic on number of incest cases could be found out so that we can see how serious the problem truly is. And that is not the end of it, through this research also, recommendation might be made with regard to problems that might be found through this research. Therefore it may actually work as a mean to identify sources of the problem and also as mode of recommending solutions to the said problem, which is incest. This research is going to be conducted mainly through interview and by looking into relevant laws and research done by others, that is how data going to be collected in this research. All and all, it is hoped that this research could bring benefits even in the slightest possible way because incest is not a problem that can be perceive as regular problem.
