

SEX CHANGE OPERATION: DIFFERENT PERSPECTIVES AND CHALLENGES IN MALAYSIA

By

Mohamad Zaki Bin Azmi (2003302754)
Mohd Effendy Bin Rosley (2003302761)
Nur Hasnifarina Binti Ahmad Fauzi (2003303080)

Submitted in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements
For the Bachelor in Legal Studies (Hons)

Universiti Teknologi MARA
Faculty of Law

April 2006

The students/authors confirm that the work submitted is their own and that appropriate credit has been given where reference has been made to the work of others.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All praises to the Almighty Allah for all his blessings and the good health given to us ensuring that this research paper is successfully completed on time.

First and foremost, we would like to express our utmost appreciation and thanks to our supervisor, Encik Nazim Ganti Shaari who has inspired us with zeal concerning the issue of transsexuality and sex change operations, which without his continuous help and guidance this assignment would not have materialized.

Moreover, we also would like to take this opportunity to convey a thousand thanks and gratitude to those who were interviewed such as researchers, academicians, and transsexuals for their undeniable and unceasing help and cooperation in helping us to answer the questions given during the process of completing this research.

We are also indebted to our parents and friends for their unflinching guidance, encouragement, and for all the unfailing moral and financial support in making this assignment possible. And not forgotten, special thanks also to those contributors who were indirectly involve in the process of completing this research.

Last but not least, to the group members who had devoted their invaluable time ensuring that this task is carried out as best as possible.

“Because we are rudimentary, we hold ourselves in modesty.”

ABSTRACT

The issue of legalizing sex change operation is not new in our country. Such operation was allowed until the National Fatwa Council (NFC) declared a fatwa on 1983 prohibiting Muslims from undergoing sex change operation. However, hermaphrodites are excluded from this prohibition. By conducting this research, we aim to allow sex change operation not only for hermaphrodites but also to those who are suffering from Gender Identity Disorder (GID) or Gender Dysphoria (GD). Both are acknowledged as psychological disorders, which lead to transsexualism. We referred to several statutes, decided cases, the Holy Quran, Hadiths and also books as our primary sources. Other sources include law journals, medical journals, newspaper articles, online databases and also Internet sources. We also conducted several interviews with an academician, a book author and also a transsexual in order to get different opinions on the issue of sex change operation. We hope that this research will provide a better understanding on the issue of transsexualism in Malaysia. Since transsexuals in Malaysia are not allowed to be who they want to be, they are invariably involved in various social problems. Hopefully, this research will open the eyes of the government and also the society on the importance of addressing this issue. Hopefully they will realize that transsexuals are normal human beings who deserve to be respected.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

|                 |  |
|-----------------|--|
| Acknowledgments | ii   |
| Abstract        | iii  |
| Contents        | iv   |
| List of Cases   | vi   |
|                 |  |
| 1.0      | CHAPTER ONE: INTRODUCTION           |
|                 |  |
| 1.1             | Text/Proposed Study 1                      |
| 1.2             | Objectives 3                               |
| 1.3             | Definition of Transsexuals 4               |
| 1.4             | Sex Change Operation 5                     |
|                 |  |
|                 | 1.4.1 Psychological Therapy 6              |
|                 | 1.4.2 Hormone Replacement Therapy 7        |
|                 | 1.4.3 Sex Reassignment Surgery 8           |
|                 |  |
|                 | 1.4.3.1 Genital Reassignment Surgery 9     |
|                 | 1.4.3.2 Sex Reassignment Surgery 9         |
|                 |  |
| 2.0      | CHAPTER TWO: RELIGIOUS PERSPECTIVES |
|                 |  |
| 2.1             | Introduction 10                            |
| 2.2             | Islamic 11                                 |
| 2.3             | Christianity 14                            |
| 2.4             | Hinduism 15                                |
|                 |  |
| 3.0      | CHAPTER THREE: LITERATURE REVIEW    |
|                 |  |
| 3.1             | Introduction 17                            |
| 3.2             | Legal Position in Malaysia 22              |
|                 | 3.2.1 Syariah Law and Malaysian Fatwa 22   |
|                 | 3.2.2 Minor Offences Act 1955 27           |
| 3.3             | Legal Position in Singapore 31             |
| 3.4             | Legal Position in Iran 36                  |
|                 |  |
| 4.0      | CHAPTER FOUR: FINDINGS              |
|                 |  |
|                 | 41   |

5.0 CHAPTER FIVE: CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

|     |  |    |
|-----|--|----|
| 5.1 | Conclusions  | 51 |
|     | 5.1.1 Introduction                                 | 51 |
|     | 5.1.2 Islamic Countries: Iran and Egypt            | 52 |
|     | 5.1.3 Situation in Singapore                       | 53 |
|     | 5.1.4 Advanages of Legalizing Sex Change Operation | 53 |
| 5.2 | Recommendations                                    | 54 |
|     | Bibliography                                       | 57 |
|     | Appendix 1   | 61 |
|     | Appendix 2   | 63 |