ABSTRACT

Increasingly troubling is the issue of recreational areas which are less attractive in terms of tourism lately. Poor management structure and lack of maintenance impact recreational areas tremendously. Accordingly, tourist numbers are declining day by day. However, the poorly controlled hygiene issue also makes this recreation area more and more outdated and unvisited. Furthermore, the lack of facilities also causes the Tasik Melati study area is not the main visitor choice. So this study was done to upgrade Tasik Melati's recreational area to become one of Perlis' tourist destinations. Among the issues identified in this study is the conservation of recreational areas as regards either recreational equipment or facilities. Next, a significant thing examined is the level of cleanliness as well. Moreover, practices in leisure areas are also things that are being researched and are to be enhanced. Finally, the tourism items available in the study area are elements of the study planned to make the study area one of Perlis' tourist destinations.
