ABSTRACT

Would want to upgrade Dataran Ampang Jajar's study area is an enormous opportunity with its strategic location, and easy access for visitors. Recreation area is an area many visitors want to spend time with their loved ones. Natural ecosystems also play a key role in the prevention of other conditions of people. The social nature of the human species brings enjoyment and value to communal activities. Most individuals pursue recreational and leisure activities not so much for their own sake, but because such activities represent a social occasion or something to do in the company of others they like, enjoy and admire. This study was conducted using questionnaire to identify issues and problems at the study area. there are 50 respondents that involved in my research. In this recreation area that landscape elements hardscape dn softscape have a very important function. Not just this, ease of retrieval is really a major factor this needs to be present in this area so users will use it as well.
