ACKNOWLEDGMENT

First of all, I would like to express my deepest appreciation to all those who provided me the possibility to complete this report. A special gratitude I give to our practical training supervising lecturer, Sr Puan Noorazlina Bin Kamarulzaman, whose contribution in simulating suggestions and encouragement, helped me to coordinate my case study especially in writing this report.

In addition, I would also like to acknowledge with much appreciation to the company, Sun Ridge Sdn. Bhd. which had accept me as a practical student in their company and also as a platform for me to progress this report. A much appreciation also to the crucial role of the site supervisor Encik Amir Saifuddin Bin Amram, who gave the permission for me to make that site construction as my case study and also have invested his full effort in guiding me to complete this report. A much thanks also to all the workers and technician that much given me the information and experience at site construction.

Last but not least, a special thanks to my parents, who always give me the moral support and also financial support to me in other to finish this report during my practical training period.
