ABSTRACT

The development of city for each state in our country is increasing rapidly. The growth of city without balance the environment and healthy life is becomes poor lifestyle. It is important to each individual have a good environment, quality life, healthy and place.

Nowadays, there are many aspects to be considered by the city planner, past and present to design the space and place for a city. Herewith there have many excellent books described the space as a three-dimensional void. Some book tries to develop the history and aesthetics of the artistically shaped voids, which find it's most outspoken and characteristic from in the square, in the plaza, the focal point in the organization of the town. Actually, many historic of square or plaza began in western civilization. There is abundance square in western, Europe and it was importance as interaction to the city.

Square is important to our city and it plays a role to our development. For another country, it was many historic and previously to assemble all people. But in our country, its looked by our community as recreational, celebrated and gathered place. We are always forgets about their important such as for interaction from the central of city to another sub-city. Nowadays, the square also gives benefit for our tourism activity. A good square attracts the visitors to come and many activities can be generates such as, tourism program, handicraft activity and others. So that, square offer many opportunities for tourism sector to organize any program which given them benefits.

To achieve role of square requires provided a good facilities, maintenance to facilities and excellent management of square. The main aspect should be considered from the design stage, during the operation and maintenance program.
