ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research project has been carried out by a team which included Nur Ashiqah binti Mhd Ariff, Mohd Hafiz bin Mahmud, Siti Syafiqah Sofia binti Mohd Saufi and Nurul Afiqah binti Mohd Noh.

First and foremost, we would like to express our gratitude and appreciation to all those who gave us the possibility to complete this project paper. A special thanks to our final year project paper coordinator, Mr Ismail Badiuzzaman for his exemplary guidance, monitoring and constant encouragement throughout the course of this thesis especially in writing this report.

Secondly, we also like to take this opportunity to express our deep sense of gratitude to the officer of Human Resource Department of Pharmaniaga Sdn Bhd, Nestle Sdn Bhd and also to the Royal Malaysia Police and Ministry of Woman, Family and Community Development for their contributions of providing necessary information regarding this project paper.

Thirdly, this study of this kind would hardly have been feasible without the support of the university. We wish to thank to the Faculty of Law, Universiti Teknologi Mara (UiTM) and members.

Lastly we thank almighty, our beloved parents, brother, sisters, cousins and friends for their constant encouragement without which this assignment would not be possible.

ABSTRACT

Sexual harassment in the workplace has been documented as a widespread and damaging phenomenon. Therefore, a legal study was conducted in order to analyze the problem with sexual harassment at workplace. The aim of the study is to obtain an understanding on sexual harassment that happened at workplace by doing a research on the definition of sexual harassment, types of sexual harassment that occurred and many more. Moreover, this research has been done in order to know the effects of sexual harassment towards the victim.
