• Graphic Online Marketing

Every element that using in poster has own function. Effective marketing design needs to understand the importance of "Posting" graphic designers and dealers need to jointly see and know how to communicate business sales messages to customers. This is important because design carries a marketing message, and should be in line with business goals

Pin'cess Perfume using online marketing to selling perfume. So the element graphic we using was image of pin'cess perfume. For example element color we use is black and gold because the color show the main color of "Pincess Perfume", we also founder of Pin'cess Perfume to make other people know about the founder. Prospects (Costumer) are more likely to buy from businesses or people they know, like, and trust. So I don't just use product photos but I use photos of myself with Pin'cess Perfume. It's one thing to build relationships through the marketing process. The job of a graphic is to elevate the customer's mood to recognize and place trust in the dealer's business or services. Understanding graphic design will change negative customer opinions into positive ones. Therefore the use of Font type, Shape Color, Appearance and position of product info is very important. Therefore it will be profitable for the business.

Pin'cess Perfume using poster, video and picture as posting to deliver information to customer. The color I using is light color to take attention and to make other focus to see our posting for example purple, marron, blue, gold, grey, green and for font I always using white bold because the color light white will attract customer to read the information. I also using picture of me, founder, perfume and image that suitable for the content to make customer understand even just look the posting without read caption because most of them more like see poster than read the caption.

In conclusion graphic is the most persuasive art in our world today. It is spread across various media platforms that hit consumers every day
