On 30th April 2021, APB Rembau under the Research, Industry Linkages, Community and Alumni committee successfully conducted a webinar entitled 'The New Reality of Language Teaching'.

The webinar began at 2.45 on a Friday afternoon and lasted for two hours. The purpose of the webinar stemmed from the need of using multimedia for online language teaching, as well as the need for various approaches to online language teachings. Online classes are far more challenging than the traditional classrooms and as such, educators need to always keep up with new methods of language teaching to make the learning process easily comprehensible and interactive.

The invited speaker for the webinar was a senior lecturer from APB UiTM Seremban campus, Dr. Tuan Sarifah Aini Binti Syed Ahmad and was moderated by a lecturer from UiTM Rembau campus, Puan Hazwati Binti Hashim.

For the duration of the webinar, multiple topics were introduced to the webinar participants which ranged from the inclusion of gamification in language teaching which appealed to those who attended, as well as how to implement the said method in their lessons. The fact that gamification is a method to further facilitate language teaching and learning is a topic that is worth considering. The participants were also given some examples in the form of previously used games by the speaker. All of this amounts to deeper understanding of the current approach that the educators can utilise in this era of online classes and learning.

At the end of the webinar session, questions were taken from the participants and were answered by the speaker thus making the webinar an interactive session. Participants were awarded e-certificates as well as training hours.

In summary, the inclusion of gamification in teaching and learning is something that more educators should adopt due to the fact that it makes the teaching and learning process more interactive. The webinar has brought more attention to how successful gamification in learning actually is and participants have given positively overwhelming feedback regarding the session itself as they are more knowledgeable than ever after attending the webinar.
