ABSTRACT

This paper presents finding of a study that was carried out in September 2012 at Kota Kinabalu to study on the contributing factors committing to white collar crime based on managerial perspective. 150 employers supposed to be surveyed, however only 125 employers had answering our questionnaires, which 52 were males and 73 were females. The population of employees at public and private sector in Kota Kinabalu and strata sampling been used to select respondent from managerial level. A survey questionnaire was administered to them and collected on its completion. Frequencies and nonparametric spearman's correlation were used in analysis the data.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Praise to Allah for five weeks we undergo our research for two semesters and we finally successfully completed our research. We pray to Allah hoping our journey is in His bliss. We also would like to extend our thankfulness to the most precious persons in our life, our father, mother and siblings for all their moral support, financial support and also our friends for never ending reminding us to always be honest and trustworthy during our research. As for our supervisor from MARA Technology University Sabah (UiTM), Ms Ibiانا, we thank you for all reprimand and guidance as it is very helpful for us in completing our report. And not forgotten, Mdm Dayang Siti Noorsaufidah, for spending her time to advise us on our research. We have learnt a lot of valuable things while doing our research. We realize that learning theoretical is never the same when it comes to practice. There are a lot more to master than just learning from book.
